DOX: FORUM

DOX: FORUM is an international event dedicated to help facilitate the development and financing of creative and visually strong film projects. DOX: FORUM brings together key international financiers, intent on discovering the latest independent and innovative works in development with documentary makers, fiction filmmakers and visual artists exploring the boundaries of documentary in new strong projects. DOX: FORUM consists of a 3 day event (10th to 12th of November) including seminars and case studies on new financing and distribution models, and a lot of networking.

DOX: LAB

DOX: LAB is a new talent development and production program. In 2009, CPH:DOX handpicked a small number of young, international filmmakers to participate in an experimental documentary laboratory challenging the filmmakers to think differently and find new approaches to filmmaking – aesthetically and economically. The core of the concept is an actual meeting between different culture, narrative traditions and methods of production. The films from DOX:LAB 2009 will screen at CPH:DOX 2010. We are proud to repeat DOX:LAB in 2010. Filmmakers from Africa, the Middle East, South America and Asia are matched with filmmakers from Nordic countries in teams of two. During the festival they are invited in Copenhagen to realize a 10 day development workshop, concluding with a project presentation. All teams will receive grants and are given six months to realize their film. The World premiere will be at CPH:DOX 2011.

DOX: MARKET

DOX: MARKET is a documentary film market running in conjunction with CPH:DOX. In 2010, the market will be open throughout the festival with priority access given to attending buyers, festival programmers and curators. DOX: MARKET 2010 will once again be located at The Danish Film Institute, in close proximity to the festival center, with 20 viewing stations operated with an on-demand digital screening system, offering professionals easy access to an extensive line-up of recent documentary titles. DOX: MARKET is a curated market that reflects CPH:DOX’s overall interest in visually and artistically strong documentary films. All films selected for an official festival screening at CPH:DOX are automatically included in the digital market.
